Introduction : Department of Sociology, Arts & Commerce College, Kadepur organizes a speech under the MoU Faculty Exchange Activity, on 'Cyber Crime and Youth'. In the digital age, children are exposed to a vast amount of technology and the internet, making them vulnerable to cybercrime. Cybercrime includes bullying, harassment, identity theft, fraud, and other online dangers that can harm children's mental and emotional health. As our youth is mostly using computer and Internet and are mostly involved in cybercrimes so they are mostly affected by these crimes. They are affecting personally, socially/culturally and economically. Through this lecture students will realize the benefits of internet and awareness about cyber-crime.
